14.6 HIGH SCHOOL ALL-STAR GAMES, EFFECTS ON ELIGIBILITY;

A student-athlete shall be denied the first year of intercollegiate athletics competition if, following completion of high school eligibility in the student-athlete's sport and prior to the student-athlete's high school graduation, the student-athlete competes in more than two all-star football contests or two all-star basketball contests. (30.2.1.1. for definition of high school all-star contest.)

30.2 ALL-STAR CONTESTS:

30.2.1. High School Football and Basketball. As provided in 14.6, a student-athlete shall be denied the first of intercollegiate athletics competition if, following completion of high school eligibility in the student-athlete's sport and prior to the student-athlete's graduation, the student-athlete competes in more than two all-star football contests or two all-star basketball contests.

30.2.1.1 High School All-Star Contests defined. A high school all-star contest is any contest in the sport of football or basketball that meets the following criteria:

- a) The teams participating in the contest involve individuals who have completed their high school eligibility in the sport and have not yet enrolled in and attended classes during a regular term at a collegiate institution;
- b) The contest is scheduled and publicized in advance;
- c) The competition is sponsored and promoted by an individual, organization, or agency;
- d) The individuals are selected for participation in the contest on an individual basis and have not competed together previously as members of a team that played a regular schedule of games in an organized recreation or interscholastic program
